EVENT DESCRIPTION

Event: ZUJ Job Fair / HANDS project Date: Monday, 16/5/2022 Organizer: Al-Zaytoonah University of Jordan Location: ZUJ main Plaza

HANDS project actively participated in a Job Fair exhibition organized by Al-Zaytoonah University of Jordan (ZUJ) under the patronage of the Minister of Labour and the ZUJ university president Prof. Mohammad Almajali. This event served as a significant platform within the university's activities, aiming to enhance students' awareness and facilitate connections with the labour market.

The HANDS project's involvement in the Job Fair allowed for the dissemination of the project's outcomes and activities, highlighting the achievements made in both Jordan and Syria. This dissemination effort would have provided students and visitors with valuable insights into the project's objectives, accomplishments, and its impact on communities in these regions.

The HANDS booth appears to have garnered substantial attention, receiving over 60 visitors who were evidently interested in learning more about the project's objectives and initiatives. This level of engagement signifies a keen interest among the attendees in understanding the HANDS project's contributions and potentially exploring opportunities associated with its goals.

The project team's active participation in the job fair by showcasing a Roll-up banner and distributing brochures and dissemination materials further facilitated the project dissemination process. These materials likely provided a concise and informative overview of the project, enabling interested individuals to grasp the essence of HANDS' mission and accomplishments.

Overall, the HANDS project's presence at the Job Fair organized by ZUJ seems to have been successful in raising awareness, engaging the audience, and creating connections within the university community. Such initiatives not only foster collaboration but also contribute to bridging the gap between academic endeavours and the practical aspects of the labour market, offering students a glimpse into real-world projects and opportunities.
