

“The Right to Revoke Electronic Commerce Contracts in Jordanian Legislation”

Prepared by the student

Muawiya Firas Al-Qa’aidah

supervised by

Dr. Muhammad Al-Ghazwi

Al-Zaytoonah University of Jordan, 2022/2023

Abstract

The electronic contract is a new concept in the field of contract theory, characterized by the adoption of electronic methods to complete it among customers who are not united in one place, and by referring to the Jordanian Electronic Transactions Law, I found that the Jordanian legislator did not address the definition of the electronic contract, only defining the Basic Rules in the Jordanian civil law of the contract. It also became clear through the study that the concept of electronic transactions is broader and more comprehensive than the concept of the electronic contract, and therefore the electronic contract is part of electronic transactions .

The purpose of this study came to the statement of the right of revocation in e-commerce contracts, and to achieve the objectives of the study, the applied descriptive approach was used, and the study concluded with a number of results, the most prominent of which are: the right of revocation is granted to the weak party in the electronic contract due to the difficulty in knowing the details of the contract, and the right of revocation is considered one of the new legal mechanisms as a result of progress and development. Based on the results of the study, the researcher recommended the need for the Jordanian legislator to intervene more seriously and responsibly to keep pace with the ongoing development in the field of the right of withdrawal, and to set a deadline for the provider to refund the price to the consumer in case of withdrawal from the contract and return the contract replacement.

Keywords: right of revocation, electronic commercial contracts, Jordanian legislation.